I. Organizational Structure

(1) Structure

The Company is under the command of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and has an organizational structure as follows:

1. Board of Directors comprises eleven to fifteen members. In accordance with the law and the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the board has the authority to make decisions for the Company's operations. A Board Secretariat shall be established under the Board of Directors to handle administrative matters related to the Board of Directors, with one Director of the Board Secretariat appointed.
2. Three Supervisors are elected pursuant to the law and the Company's Articles of Incorporation to oversee the financial and business operations.
3. In conformity with the law and the Company's Articles of Incorporation, as well as decisions made by the board of directors, the president is appointed to oversee the Company's operations and supervise all staff and departments. Four vice presidents, three assistant presidents, and one chief secretary are assigned to assist the president. The President's Office shall be established, with divisions set up as needed according to business requirements.
4. The Chief Risk Officer is responsible for risk management. The Office of Risk Management is set up with one director appointed, with divisions set up as needed according to business requirements.
5. The Chief Legal Compliance Officer is responsible for overseeing the compliance to the law and other legal matters. The Office of Legal and Compliance is set up with one director, with divisions set up as needed according to business requirements.
6. The Information Security Officer is appointed to comprehensively manage the promotion of security policies and the allocation of resources.
7. The Corporate Governance Officer is the top executive responsible for matters related to corporate governance.
8. The Auditor General, appointed by the Board of Directors, is responsible for conducting the Company's audits and is required to report to the Board and Supervisors on a regular basis. The Department of Auditing (right under the command of the Board), headed by a Director and supervised by the auditor general, is also established.
9. The Strategic Planning Committee has one chairperson, a position that can be held by the President concurrently. The committee also consists of five vice chairpersons (one of whom works on a full-time basis) and several committee members.
10. The Postal Capital Operations Committee serves as the Company's dedicated unit for effectively utilizing postal capital. The Committee consists of nine to thirteen members, one of whom serves as the convener, concurrently served by the president.
11. The Risk Management Committee is responsible for overseeing risk management operating mechanisms, led by the chairperson (serving as convener), and composed of several committee members.
12. The Digital Development Committee serves as the Company's dedicated unit for advancing data and digital technology development. The Committee consists of the Chairperson (also being the convener), President, and five senior executives.

13. The Sustainable Development Committee serves as the Company's dedicated unit for decision-making and promotion of sustainable development. The Committee is chaired by the Chairperson and the president serves as the vice chairperson. Several other members and one Chief Sustainability Officer are appointed to promote and execute related operations.
14. The Accountability Committee is established to handle matters of accountability and to facilitate the implementation of the responsibility map system. The Committee consists of five members, chaired by the Chairperson, and the Chairperson further appoints two members from the directors and two others from the supervisors.
15. The Company also sets up the Department of Mail Business and Operations, the Department of Philately, the Department of Savings and Remittances, the Department of Life Insurance, the Department of Property Operations, the Department of Capital Operations, the Department of Human Resources, the Department of Civil Service Ethics, the Department of Accounting, the Department of Information Management, the Department of Occupational Safety and Health, the Department of Public Affairs, Postal Museum, the E-Commerce Office, the Cyber Security Office and the Digital Development Office.
16. Nineteen Responsibility Center Offices are designated to serve as administrative and supervisory bodies, leading the branch offices they oversee to form operational teams.
17. To meet the need for mail business operations, the Mail Processing Center is established in Taipei to coordinate mail processing operation and mail delivery network through a high-performance automatic system.
