Chinese Fables Stamp Folio

Chinese fables are classics. They are popular short stories containing wit and wisdom that enlighten, instruct and bring joy to their listeners. To promote these exquisite fables, Chunghwa Post has issued a "Chinese Fables Stamp Folio" at NT$120 a copy. Using two parallel folds to create three panels, this folio includes a set of four stamps based on the following renowned fables: "Now Three, Now Four" (about inconsistency), "Selling the All-Penetrating Sword and Unyielding Shield" (about self-contradiction), "Waiting by the Tree for the Rabbit" (No pains, no gains.) and "An Old Fool Moves Mountain" (about persistence). The folio will be sold beginning May 19, 2021 at the Postal Museum and the Taipei Beimen Post Office, as well as 36 other post office branches that operate business for long-term philatelic subscribers. It can also be purchased on line at <https://stamp.post.gov.tw>.
