At a time when the whole world has been facing the ravages of Covid-19, we are fortunate to have persons who work selflessly to protect Taiwan. In thanksgiving for these heroes fighting against this epidemic, Chunghwa Post has offered a special souvenir sheet containing six stamps on the theme of thanksgiving. The stamps are grouped in three pairs valued at NT$8 each for the first pair, NT$13 for the second and NT$15 for the third. The souvenir sheet is drawn with colorful strokes exuding a warm and positive force. The key picture is of a furry bunny. Rabbits are also called Spring Bunnies because they stand for the limitless potential of new life. Each of the six stamps has a charming child presenting pretty flowers as a token of gratitude to the persons fighting the epidemic and a symbol of a bright future ahead. A folio is released along with stamps, containing the souvenir sheet. The folio combines the beauty and simplicity of design. It's certainly worth collecting.
